036 The OSU Slavic Club will present the film Resurrection (based on Leo Tolstoy's novel), Russian dialogue with English subtitles, Friday March 2, 1973 at 7:30 PM, Hitchcock Auditorium (2070 Neil Ave., just north of 19th), free.

037 To all prospective correspondents for OSEEN: For the time being we will have to depend on everyone for communication through OSEEN, and for the present we will not attempt to set up formally designated areas of the State to be "covered" by a particular individual. Please do NOT assume, however, that someone else will send in information which you have. OSEEN will have to be a self-help operation and cannot be of use unless YOU help.

038 A suggestion to all H.S. Russian teachers: You may wish to make up a list of names and home addresses of your graduating seniors who have taken one or more years of H.S. Russian and send those names and addresses to the Russian departments at the different colleges and universities to which your students indicate they are interested in applying. Russian departments could then personally invite those prospective students to continue with their study of Russian.

039 You may wish to save your copies of OSEEN for future reference. This is one of the reasons why we are supplying them punched for a notebook binder. We will attempt to provide an index periodically.
